

Home is where the hearth is

PINCKNEY GREEN WILL ENSURE YOUR FIREPLACE CREATES A STRIKING FIRST IMPRESSION

With Autumn coming, our thoughts turn towards hearth and home and a cosy fire for the colder nights.

Pinckney Green Stoneworks, have hand-carved stone fireplaces near Bath since 1995 and have a showroom in Wick as well as three masonry workshops in the area. They specialise in natural stone fireplaces, architectural stonework such as archways and stone windows, and fireplace accessories including fire baskets and woodburning stoves.

Their customers often ask Pinckney Green to help recreate a special fireplace design from a photograph or to add a family shield or favourite flower to an existing design - a subtle and unique way to preserve memories for posterity.

One of the most interesting features of natural stone is its character and Bath stone is no exception. Its beauty is recognised by interior designers and architects worldwide for its neutral creamy tones which complement so many interior styles.

A fireplace should lend an elegant focus to a room and Pinckney Green are offering a free advice service on identifying the ideal proportions to ensure your fireplace gives a striking first impression. Something to consider if you're thinking about replacing your fireplace or stove. BL
